

Privacy Policy

Last Revised: 04/2019

Charge Savvy, LLC owns and operates <http://www.chargesavvy.com> (the "Site"). This page discloses the privacy practices for the Site.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing.

We are the sole owners of the information collected on this site. We only have access to/collect information that you voluntarily give us through the Site's embedded form(s) or other direct contact from you. We will not sell or rent this information to anyone.

We will use your information to respond to you, regarding the reason you contacted us. We will not share your information with any third party outside of our organization, other than as necessary to fulfill your request, e.g. to ship an order.

Unless you ask us not to, we may contact you via phone or email in the future to tell you about new products or services, specials, promotions, or changes to this privacy policy.

Your Access and Control Over Information

You may opt out of any future contacts from us at any time. You can do the following at any time by contacting us via the email address or phone number provided on our website:

- See what data we have about you, if any
- Change/correct any data we have about you
- Have us delete any data we have about you that was collected via the Site
- Express any concern you have about our use of your data

Security

We take precautions to protect your information both online and offline. We do not collect sensitive information (such as credit card information) through the Site. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (such as responding to requests made through the Site) are granted access to the information collected on the Site. The computers/servers in which the information collected through the Site is stored are kept in a secure environment.

If you feel that we are not abiding by this privacy policy, you should contact us immediately via telephone or email at the number or email address listed on the Site.